【Notes】

I. Graduate students in the Department of Public Health's doctoral program in the 2026-2027 academic year must complete at least 18 credit hours (including 9 credit hours of required courses and 9 credit hours of elective courses) and 12 credit hours for their doctoral dissertation to graduate. The maximum number of credit hours that can be taken from other departments (doctoral programs) within the university is 8 credit hours; any credits exceeding this will not be counted towards graduation. Starting from the 2027-2028 academic year, "Academic Research Ethics" has changed from a required 0 credit hours to a required 1 credit hour.

II. The maximum number of credit hours that doctoral students in this department can take per semester is 16 credit hours.

III. Graduate students admitted from the 2017-2028 academic year onwards must complete self-study at the Taiwan Academic Ethics Education Resource Center website during their first semester and pass a final exam to obtain proof of course completion before applying for the degree oral examination.

IV. Graduate students who pass the doctoral candidate qualification examination are required to submit a research progress report, which must be conducted at least once per academic year. V. Criteria for Applying for Doctoral Dissertation Examination: (Subject to the guidelines announced by the Academic Affairs Office)

Doctoral students must pass one of the following English proficiency tests when applying for their dissertation examination:

Applicable to new students admitted from the 2017-2018 academic year onwards: Must pass the GEPT Intermediate Level, achieving CEFR B1 level (or equivalent English proficiency) in all four skills: listening, reading, speaking, and writing. Alternatively, they may take the "Continuing English" course offered by the Language Center; passing this course will meet the English graduation requirement.

VI. Eligibility for Doctoral Students Applying for the Dissertation Examination in this Department: (Subject to the guidelines announced by the Academic Affairs Office)

One of the following qualifications must be met:

(I) Two original papers: Published as the first author in SCI/SSCI journals, with one paper published in a journal ranked in the top 20% of the field and the other in a journal ranked in the top 50% of the field.

(II) Three original papers: Published as the first author in SCI/SSCI journals, with all three papers published in journals ranked in the top 50% of the field. (iii) At least two original papers: published as the first author in SCI/SSCI journals, with a total I.F. of 5.0 or higher.

(iv) To graduate within three years (within the university's study period): one paper, published as the first author in an SCI/SSCI journal, with an I.F. of 6.0 or higher.
